

The Power of the Golden Rule

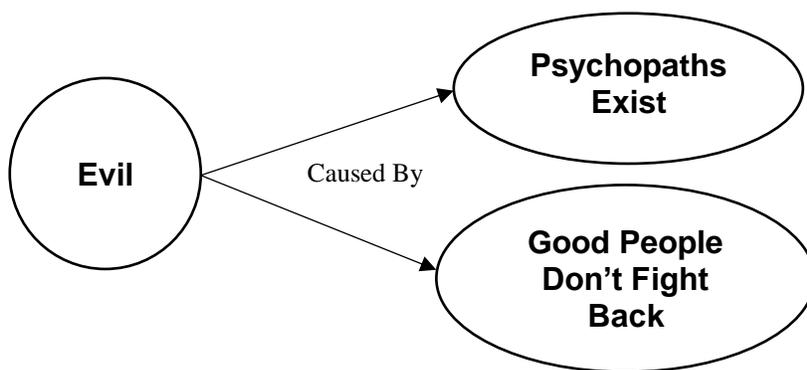

By Dean L. Gano; May 5, 2022

In my continuing journey to better understand the human condition, I recently had a big aha moment while I was pondering the huge rise¹ in the terrible things happening. Things such as cancel culture,² stolen elections,³ 568 million doses of a deadly vaccine⁴ given to millions of Sheeple⁵ causing an exponential increase in cancers,⁶ and the spewing of new misinformation⁷ and lies⁸ day after day. Like just today, I learned that the vaccines use the S-1 spike protein from the first Wuhan virus and that virus is now extinct in the human population due to herd immunity. So, the vaccines are totally worthless in preventing infection⁶ today! Yet, every shot and booster causes the immune system to degrade even farther, causing huge increases in cancers and many other diseases⁹ like Epstein-Barr Virus, herpes, CMV, etc. More than 70% of COVID-19 infections occur in vaccinated people, while a weekly dose of Ivermectin can prevent infection for all variants 70 - 90% of the time. I hear some people call what's happening "Evil," and for the first time in my life I am beginning to understand what pure evil is and how it fits into the human experience. (NOTE: Click the 9 links to discover the depths of this pure evil or go to: <https://fact-checked.org> .)

The definition of Evil: morally reprehensible, sinful, wicked, and bad conduct. But what causes it, how does it manifest itself in the human experience of life?

Knowing that most evil is caused by psychopathic 'people,'¹⁰ my big aha, was realizing that the only thing that keeps it from getting out of control is good people fighting back. It is a never-ending struggle for all of humanity, so let's look at the causes so we can know how to fight it.

Evil is caused by the conditional cause, "Psychopaths Exist" and the action cause (non-action) of "Good People Don't Fight Back."

As discussed in my article, "Misinformation or Lies?"⁷ the psychopaths' number one behavior is pathological lying, meaning they are incapable of recognizing or telling the truth. They also are incapable of empathy, meaning they don't care about anyone but themselves. No one knows exactly what causes psychopathy but it is likely a combination of genetics, environmental and interpersonal factors. Children of psychopaths are often psychopathic themselves.

Since this behavior is antithetical to what makes a human, human; these human-like creatures use their manipulative powers to get real humans to follow them and pure evil is born. The real humans, who do not carry this genetic defect, but follow the path of honesty, personal responsibility, and helping others by following the Golden Rule, fail to see the danger, and continue to follow these psychopathic leaders to their detriment.

But what caused the genetically defective psychopaths? According to years of research by Spencer Wells,¹¹ he found that our early hominin ancestors lived in tribes and were very territorial, with a strong sense of “Them and Us.” Killing another hominin was not a bad thing if it meant you stayed in control of the food and land. Kind of like a psychopath? Yes? Then, a genetic change occurred that gave these early hominins greater cognition allowing them to be more successful. About this same time, these small tribes that historically fought one another, stopped the killing and began to cooperate, worked together, shared their knowledge, and became more successful as a species. That species, that learned the Golden Rule, left Africa and populated the entire planet. Unfortunately, along the way they married some of the human like creatures with this psychopathic genetic defect; so, they are still among us.

So, in a way, because cooperation was a cause of modern humans (homo sapiens) becoming the dominant species among many hominins, this characteristic helps define what it is to be human.

Because there is an infinite set of possibilities every time a new human is born, there is a chance that this genetic defect can rear its ugly head. Every human that ever existed is a unique creature, with a unique mind that is a function of its environment and its genes. But if two people with psychopathic genes mate, the chances for a psychopathic child are significantly increased. And, I think the reason that 80% of all psychopaths live in the big cities of America is that because psychopaths like excitement they live in the big cities where they are quite common. As they mate, they become a higher percentage of the population, resulting in a whole big city culture that is inundated with these human-like creatures. The top professions with psychopaths are CEO, lawyer (including politicians), media worker, salesperson, surgeon, journalist, police officer, clergyperson, chef, and civil servant.

While not the only one, Neanderthal is a classic example of similar hominins who were notably reclusive tribal warriors who failed to survive when their environment changed, while Homo sapiens who lived in the same time and place survived because they worked together for the common good of humankind.¹²

Cooperation is essential to success, and no man is an island unto himself, but for the psychopath, the only cooperation of value is working with other psychopaths to control the Sheeple. Science tells us that people with Neanderthal genes are more prone to mental health issues,¹³ so a very interesting scientific study¹³ would be to see what percentage of psychopaths have Neanderthal genes as compared to normal humans.

Also, if we look back at human history we see a repeating cultural phenomenon of cooperation (practicing the Golden Rule). As documented in Jim Collin's 2009 book "How the Mighty Fall," humans ban together to create groups of like-minded, honest communities where every member is responsible for themselves, but work hard together for the greater good of the community. They become very successful but eventually, the next generation fails to understand why they have been so successful and become Sheeple,⁵ who have no idea why they live such a good life.

In the background, psychopathic leaders whose primary goal in life is to control others, lead these Sheeple into dark evil places and before they figure out what happened to them, the once successful culture dies. This has been happening since the beginning of time, but my big aha was realizing that the duration of these good times is dependent on the good communities helping other communities fight for their right to live free from their psychopathic leader's destructive influence. Remind you of the Golden Rule? Yes!

So, when psychopaths like Russia's Putin start killing other communities that, while infected with some of their own psychopaths, still seek the common good possessed by real humans, it is imperative that the real humans of this world stand with those being oppressed and fight for the greater good; for the sake of all mankind.

The following story sums it up pretty well I think:

The founder of Dubai, Sheik Rashid, was asked about the future of his country, and he replied, "My grandfather rode a camel, my father rode a camel, I ride a Mercedes, my son rides a Land Rover, and my grandson rides a Land Rover...but my great-grandson is going to have to ride a camel again."

"Why is that?" He was asked.

And his reply was, "Hard times create strong men, strong men create easy times. Easy times create weak men, weak men create difficult times. Many will not understand it, but you have to raise warriors, not parasites."

Again, if we look at the historical reality of all the great empires...the Persians, the Trojans, the Egyptians, the Greeks, the Romans, and in later years the British...all rose and perished within 240 years. They were not conquered by external forces; they merely rotted from within.

America has just passed the 240-year mark, and the rot is starting to be visible and is accelerating. We are past the Mercedes and Land Rover years... the camels are on the horizon. The greatest generation of 18-year-old kids stormed the beaches at Normandy. And now, two or three generations later, some 18-year-old kids want to hide in a safe room when they hear words that hurt their feelings. Likely, because they learned that they get a trophy for everything and anything they do, they believe everything is free; nothing has value because everything is free.

The camels are on the horizon for sure and the real humans need to work even harder to promote responsibility, honesty, and the Golden Rule, if we are to survive the coming chaos. Whenever you are confronted with this “evil,” counter attack with evidenced-based causal analysis¹⁴ and don’t give up.
