

“We The People” Are Pissed Off

By Dean L. Gano; July 2022

The men who created and signed the US Constitution pledged their lives, their fortunes, and their sacred honor to uphold the constitution of the United States of America. This was a personal decision that would cost most of them everything, including their lives, to ensure those that followed would have Liberty. Please watch this 5-minute video of Paul Harvey giving testament to their sacrifices.

What our founding fathers understood above all, was that within the community of mankind, there are some very evil people whose purpose in life is to control other humans, so with the goal of preventing that from happening again, they set about to form a government of the people, for the people and by the people: “We The People,” and thus began the Great American Experiment.

Unfortunately, the “People” have lost sight of what provides them that freedom and have allowed the evil doers to gain once again a dominate foothold on many parts of our lives and thus our Liberty is being threatened. When a mob of FBI Thugs arrest innocent patriots and their families in their homes, put them in leg irons, and throw them in jail... without having law enforcement reading them their rights, or given an explanation of what they have done wrong, we are following the same path as Hitler’s Brown Shirt Thugs. But, to make it worse, not a single corporate media reported these documented facts about the January 6th, 2021 protest at the US Capital. Instead, they call them liars and denigrate anyone who reports the truth.

Historically, civilizations tend to follow these seven stages of recurring events:

1. From bondage to spiritual faith
2. From spiritual faith to great courage
3. From great courage to liberty
4. From liberty to abundance
5. From abundance to apathy
6. From apathy to dependence
7. From dependence back into bondage

The Great American Experiment started with Stage 1 when poor peasants with great spiritual faith were fed-up with the elite government control in Europe and were willing to give their lives to secure liberty for “We the People.” Over the past 246 years we have progressed to the beginning of Stage 6 and are headed for a great fall unless we can stop it now.

In order to stop this from happening we must understand the causes and find solutions that will take us back to Stage 4. So, join me in an exploration of what we know and what we can do to stop this madness.

Causal Analysis:

Causal analysis requires that we first define the What, When, Where, and Significance of the problem, so here we go.

What: Liberty Lost

When: 2020 - 2022

Where: The United States of America

Significance: Human suffering and the death of millions

The causal analysis of this problem shows that the primary effect of “Liberty Lost” is caused by a broken justice system, psychopathic politicians, and the issuance of illegal government laws and mandates. As we dig deeper, we will find many more causes, but there are four recurrent and driving forces/causes:

1. The Great Reset orchestrated by the World Economic Forum (WEF)
2. Mass Formation Psychosis also orchestrated by the WEF and Big Pharma
3. The Chinese Communist Party (CCP)
4. A totally failed education system also orchestrated by the WEF and China.

For a deeper look at all the causes I have identified, go to this PDF or this RealityChart. But for now, let’s examine these four recurring causes a little deeper.

The Great Reset by the World Economic Forum

Since a significant cause of “Liberty Lost” points to the WEF, let us take a closer look at it. If you read their Mission Statement it says: “The Forum engages the foremost political, business, cultural and other leaders of society to shape global, regional and industry agendas.”

Sounds non-threatening, doesn’t it? But this is a club whose members are the one thousand richest businesses in the world who think that because they are so successful, they are smarter than anyone else, and therefore are qualified to set the agenda for everyone else in the world. Hence the “One World Order” they promote. As we dig deeper, we find the original “Great Reset” goals from 2016, where they see the following outcomes of their “global shaping” by 2030:

1. You will own nothing and be happy.
2. The US will not be the world’s superpower.
3. You will not die waiting for an organ donor.
4. You will eat less meat.
5. A billion people must be displaced due to climate change.
6. You could be preparing to go to Mars.
7. Western values will be pushed to their breaking point.
8. Fossil fuels will be eliminated.

Mass Formation Psychosis and Totalitarianism

Mattias Desmet, a professor of psychology and author of "The Psychology of Totalitarianism," says "Totalitarianism is not a coincidence and does not form in a vacuum. It arises from a collective psychosis that has followed a predictable script throughout history, its formation gaining strength and speed with each successful generation. From the Jacobins in the French Revolution of 1789, to the Nazis and Stalinists of the 1940's; it gains strength as technology advances. It is all spurred by a singular, 'focused crisis' narrative that forbids dissident views and relies on a destructive groupthink."

OK, read that last sentence again: "It is all spurred by a singular, focused crisis narrative (COVID-19), that forbids dissident views (Cancel Culture), and relies on a destructive groupthink (Democrat Party and Corporate Media)." It looks like we have all the ingredients, doesn't it?

He believes that "most people, in a very strange way, actually continue to believe in narratives and in information that is utterly absurd in many respects." Beliefs like COVID vaccines prevent infection, when science shows that over 70% of those hospitalized were fully vaccinated, and people who were given an inexpensive prescription for Ivermectin, rarely got infected.

He goes on to say: "Many people are radically incapable of having any critical perspective on what society believes in and are incapable of seeing that this narrative or disinformation they believe in cannot be true." And what is so strange is that these misguided beliefs are very damaging to these individuals, yet they continue down the path to destruction right to the end. A close friend of mine who was healthy and briskly walking five miles a day, took the COVID-19 vaccine. After receiving the first injection he slowed down considerably. When he got the second injection he suffered a stroke. Then, when he got the third shot, he died a few days later of a massive coronary thrombosis event; common to these vaccine related deaths.

These are the Sheeple I wrote about in my paper: Wakeup Sheeple in July 2021, but Professor Desmet who has been studying this condition for the past ten years provides some very interesting observations that add great insights into the Sheeple effect that I want to share with you.

By creating this phony COVID-19 narrative, the globalists have created an object of anxiety and according to them, they are the only ones who can provide strategies to deal with this evil object. The Sheeple, who feel disconnected from their natural and social environment grab onto these strategies as a way of coping with their anxiety. In Professor Desmet's studies, he found that long before the COVID crisis, the mental health of the world's population was gradually getting worse.

He found that: “Just before the COVID-19 pandemic, the number of people who felt lonely or disconnected from their natural and social environment was huge and it had never been so high before. Worldwide, 30 percent of the population claimed to have no meaningful relationships at all, and they only connected to other people through the internet.” “Before the pandemic, over 60 percent of the people worldwide considered their job as not having any meaning at all and only 15 percent reported that their job was meaningful.”

Desmet found that the Sheeple that are in the grip of the mass formation are blind to the absurdity of the group narrative to the point that they become radically intolerant of any alternative narratives, so they stigmatize and try to destroy the people who do not go along with their narrative. They are willing to sacrifice everything that used to be important to them for the narrative they believe in.

This dedication to the false narrative leads to a Totalitarian state. Not a Dictatorship, but a group led by a few psychopaths that incite fear in the population which creates the Sheeple who unilaterally and unquestionably accept the false narrative in an effort to fill the void they have been experiencing due to their disconnection from nature and their need to be needed within a healthy social relationship. Those who are not tangled within the mass formation psychosis, but quietly just sit by and let it happen, are also a part of the problem. Before they know it, their world has come to a dreadful ending.

Remember, that which makes us human is the golden rule of doing unto others as we would have them do unto us. The social bonds that occur in that interaction creates a friendship that makes us whole and mentally healthy. When that connection is removed by technology or social constructs, those caught up in that void lose their humanity. Desmet says: “They develop a free-floating anxiety, frustration, and aggression without knowing why they feel this way. This creates the perfect condition for the development of a mass formation mindset, which leads to a totalitarian state.” Covid-19 and the draconian mandates have forced us to be removed from our humanity in several ways and thus drives the anxiety that comes with it. This is a deliberate act by very evil people to setup the conditions for mass formation psychosis to develop, and it explains why so many people are very anxious.

This mass formation mentality has been with the human race from the beginning and history has shown us the full destruction it causes many times. Examples include the Crusades, the French Revolution, Nazi Germany, the Iranian Revolution in 1979, and Soviet style communism, just to name a few.

When the Sheeple fall into this void of in-humanism, narratives are developed by their psychopathic leaders to cause fear and anxiety. They also provide solutions causing the Sheeple to jump into this idiocy as the best way to fill the huge void from which they are suffering. This makes them feel whole again and now instead of forming a social bond with real humans that they can call friends, they bond with the collective; the idea that they are part of a righteous movement to save humanity from the evil threats. There is no discerning if the threat is valid or not, just the satisfaction that they belong to a group which gives them a sense of connection with humanity. Even more, the longer that the mass formation exists, the more our personal energy is taken from us. We need this energy to develop the bonds between us. It is through this bonding that we become invested and infused with the collective.

As Professor Desmet explains, this is not a typical solidarity which is formed with a group of like-minded friends, but a solidarity between each individual and the collective; not a human feeling, but more like a mechanical link to a righteous movement.

“This mass formation is exactly the same as hypnosis which is another reason why people continue to buy into the narrative even if it is inaccurate, unscientific, or completely absurd,” Desmet said.

“Hypnosis occurs when someone can withdraw their attention from the complexity of reality and focus all their attention and psychological energy on one small aspect of it.”

It is important at this point to remember why reality is so complex. Reality is defined by an infinite set of causes that follow the four fundamental principles of causation, the most important one being that in every cause-and-effect chain, every effect has to have at least one action cause and one conditional cause, but usually many conditional causes. When we continue to repeatably ask why, the causes eventually expand into an infinite set that always ends with many unknown sets. See Figure 1 below.

Given this understanding of Reality, we quickly see the only thing we can know or create is a prototypical common reality made up of evidenced-based causes the entire group can agree to. If you cannot agree on a cause, you can leave it for further consideration, but you cannot attach a solution to it. Like the stupid solution of requiring a mask to prevent COVID-19 infection when we know from many studies that they do more harm than good and don't stop the virus because the particles are too small and go right thru any mask.

If you cannot provide evidenced-based causes to support the phony narratives, they are not real, and every time I have asked one of my Sheeple friends to provide evidence for their position, they never can. They do not even try, because they have been hypnotized by the collective's narrative. And, by ignoring this requirement for a mutual understanding of the causes, the Sheeple live in a fantasy world that has no connection with reality, and that is what makes it so destructive, and they fall farther into the void.

For example, one of the collective's destructive narratives is “Systemic Racism,” but when asked for evidence of this claim, they can never provide any evidence. In May of 2021, I did an internet search of articles on Systemic Racism to see if I could find any evidence of it. I found sixteen lengthy articles on the subject, and not even one provided any clear evidence of Systemic Racism. But that is only half the story. Knowing that search engines are designed to provide us with what they want us to see, not the truth, I did three searches using three different computers. Not surprisingly, each search gave different results. While there were similarities (6 of 16), the most revealing find was that when I used a brand-new computer, which had no history in searching for anything, that search found six out of the top seven finds were unique and different from what the other computers found with their embedded history of searches. One of these reports scored highest on the effective thinking scale. It is titled: Does Systemic Racism Exist?; By Samuel Sey. And while it had an extremely low effective thinking score, at least it did not follow the woke narrative and hence why none of the other searches found it.

In his report, Samuel Sey says: “Systemic racism is not whatever I—as a Black man—says it is. My perceptions are not proof. My experiences are not authoritative. I am not God.” He goes on to say: “racial disparities between White people and Black people are mostly a result of disparities concerning fatherlessness between White people and Black people, not systemic racism.”

Regarding the standards used by people who claim it exists, he says: “their logic lays the burden of proof on the accused, not the accuser. Systemic racism theory essentially demands groups to prove they’re not systemically racist—instead of demanding social justice proponents to prove the legitimacy of their accusations.”

It is just more liberal idiocy, because it is impossible to prove a negative? Therefore, the demand to ‘prove you are not racist,’ sets society up for failure. For more details of my findings read: Does Systemic Racism Exist in America? Of the 16 reports I read, 9 of them had negative “effective thinking” scores. Meaning among other shortcomings, they failed to clearly define the problem, failed to provide evidenced-based causes, or explain opposing views and often included obfuscation (watch the left hand!).

In his historical research, Prof. Desmet found that this mass formation always leads to a totalitarian state. But, unlike the normal totalitarian dictatorship which is destroyed when we remove the elite psychopathic leaders, a large ‘mass formation collective’ of inhuman Sheeple perpetuate their false narratives and the free society collapses – Liberty is Lost!

The only peaceful way this insanity is stopped is to wake up as many of the Sheeple as possible so they can see they have been duped. So, what Prof. Desmet suggests is that we first need to get these Sheeple to reconnect with humanity; to reconnect with nature and their sense of being needed by other humans.

The CCP

The next driving cause is the Chinese Communist Party (CCP) and in Peter Schweizer’s book ‘Red Handed,’ we learn how American elites get rich helping China break down our country. Not only the Biden Crime Family, but many members of Congress, Silicon Valley elites, Wall Street Big Shots, some Diplomats along with the Bush and Trudeau family dynasties are all part of the cabal that China has helped form. A good example of this criminality is the recent Biden Administration sale of millions of gallons of oil from our Strategic Petroleum Reserve to China.

A Totally Failed Education System

And the final driving cause of this insanity is a totally failed education system which is documented in John Ellis's book "The Breakdown of Higher Education." The woke left has been working to control their narrative for the last 40 years by driving out most of the conservative teachers. Not only are they pushing irresponsibility and dishonest narratives, they purposefully fail to teach critical thinking skills based on the principles of causation. I went to our local schools and shared my knowledge of effective problem solving and they quickly realized it did not fit in with their woke narratives and they promptly dismissed me.

By first understanding the structure of what defines reality (See Figure 1 below), we can create a mutual understanding of how to effectively communicate.

All statements of perceived facts must follow these four cause and effect principles to be valid.

1. Cause and Effect are the same thing; only perceived at different points in time.
2. Each effect has at least two causes in the form of actions and conditions.
3. Causes and effects are part of an infinite continuum of causes.
4. An effect exists only if its causes exist in the same space and time frame.

Also, real events must be repeatable by everyone. When we are talking about understanding an event or a problem, we must have sensed evidence of all the causes in every causal relationship of the event. Watch this video to see what I mean.

While Figure 1 provides a graphic of the basic structure of reality, it is even more complex because most effects have many more than the required one conditional cause, so reality gets very complex very quickly and hence why most humans cannot deal with it. If you watched the short video, you know what I mean. Because of this huge complexity, the human mind cannot deal with it and naturally sees life in a linear fashion; like a string of falling dominos, where A caused B, B caused C, C caused D, etc. We tell stories which imply causality, then categorize things and then guess and vote on what we think the cause of something is. After the vote, the answer becomes “Common Sense” and then the Groupthink begins. With these failed strategies, the complexity that is reality, is totally missed.

By understanding the cause-and-effect principles, we can know the basic structure that reality must follow. Knowing this allows us to represent any situation using causes — all we need to do is fill in the blanks. By knowing that causes are part of an infinite continuum, we know that no matter where we start working on a problem we are always in the middle. Since cause and effect are the same thing, we can move forward or backward along the cause continuum as we learn more about the causal relationships of our problem. With this flexibility we eliminate the typical bickering about what is causing the problem; all the ideas are accepted and aligned causally in time from present to past creating a common reality that everyone can agree to.

The primary reason people disagree is because they do not understand the complexity of reality. But knowing that each perspective usually has some validity, we need to focus on finding where in the time-and-space continuum each perspective exists. Often the reason for these misunderstandings is that people don't realize there are always causes between the causes. For example, let us say the cause of a “Broken Wrist” is “Person Fell,” but if we add the action cause of “Hand Stopped Fall” to the conditional cause of “Fell,” we have a better picture of reality. But we could also add, “Excess Force” and “Wrist Position” as causes between “Hand Stopped Fall,” and “Broken Wrist,” etc.

By looking for an action cause and the conditional causes of each effect, we gain a much clearer picture of the problem and its causes. By understanding the notion of an infinite set of causes, we are no longer restricted by our own paradigms. We know that each cause is like a piece of a puzzle and each person's perspective helps to complete the puzzle. With this understanding, the task becomes one of assembling all perspectives rather than bickering over who has the correct ones. But most importantly, by understanding this complexity, we can see why humility is required and that requires honesty. So, in addition to teaching honesty at home, it needs to be taught and practiced in school and it's not.

By understanding the four principles of the cause-and-effect principium, our students and the Sheeple can break out of the old paradigms of linear and categorical thinking. These new thinking skills will allow us to escape the death grip of a single reality and encourage everyone involved to share their ideas and thoughts. In doing so, everyone will come together with their own realities to form the common reality we need to be the best we can be. And being principle-based, this thinking will work on any event-type problem. If you want to learn more, read my book: Effective Thinking.

Solutions:

Now that we have examined the details of the main driving forces of “Liberty Lost,” we can see why “We The People” have a right to be pissed off, so let us look for some ways to fight this pure evil that has invaded our Republic.

First, we need to understand that for a solution to be effective, it must be within our control. Since we cannot directly control any of these four main causes discussed above, we need to look closer to home – to what we can control. I believe it lies in stopping the mass formation of our people who have been duped by these evil creatures within the CCP, the WEF, and Big Pharma.

I propose as a way to bring the Sheeple back to the world of reality and humanity, we need to teach and promote four fundamental principles rooted in our moral values and ethics. They are Causal Thinking as discussed above; Honesty; Responsibility, and the Golden Rule. Remember, principles are rules that work the same way for everyone every time. So, following these four principles will help the Sheeple abandon their delusions and stop the mass formation. Let us take a closer look at each of one of them.

Honesty

Honesty, especially with oneself is extremely hard for some people and it must be practiced daily to make it a habit.

No matter what path we choose to go down, science, engineering, poetry, history professor, whatever our life’s pursuit, we start at some point of ignorance and slowly grow our understanding of the subject matter. If you are lazy and just absorb and regurgitate everything you learned, you will develop a liberal mindset and fail at life. But, if you understand the structure of reality and challenge conventional wisdom to ensure it follows fundamental principles, you are being honest with yourself and your interaction with the world and will be much more successful than the other path.

It is not that people are stupid, it is simply that they were not taught the principles of causation, which define an overly complex reality, which requires that they admit that they do not know, and this requires honesty! Something the psychopaths are incapable of. So, we must identify these psychopaths through testing and screening and remove them from Politics and the Education System.

One of the hardest things about telling the truth is that we are afraid it might hurt us or someone else. If that is not bad enough, what if we are wrong? What if, what we think is the truth is not, but just our opinion? Well, you can forget about that silly notion, because there is no such thing as the Truth. Yes, you read that right! There is no such thing as the “Truth!” As discussed above, there is only cause and effect and the unknown. Every truth is prototypical and can be used until such time as proven wrong, but it is not the TRUTH. Understanding this requires “humility,” and that is hard for most people.

By understanding the world as an infinite set of causal relationships that can expand in the middle and both ends of the cause chain and that at some point no one knows the answer to the next “why” question, it should be obvious that the notion of truth is totally relative to those who hold it. And, if the common reality we call the truth continues to work for the group that holds it, it is a conditional truth, that is forever up for adjustment or change. Therefore, reflective thinking must be acquired for a successful life’s journey. When things do not go right, stop, and ask why or what could I have done differently? Those who fail to understand the importance of reflective thinking are doomed to a lot of failures in life. Stuff does not just happen – it is caused to happen, and once you understand the cause(s), then you can start to understand it.

Also, if we do not tell the truth or others do not share their truth, everyone loses because it prevents us from creating a common reality. And with that common reality or prototypical truth, everyone wins. It is your choice, but only as long as we continue to have Liberty.

Responsibility

Being 100% responsible for yourself is not easy. It means you cannot blame someone or something else for your failures or inability to accomplish your goals. It means you are never a victim of circumstance because if you did not see a bad circumstance coming, you were not prepared and that is your responsibility. It also means you need to be accountable for your actions.

Responsibility is the ability to successfully respond to a set of causes. So, when presented with an event you first need to evaluate it and then respond in a way that results in meeting your goals and objectives. If that fails and your goals and objectives are not met, then you need to use reflective thinking and causal analysis to find out which causes you did not understand and thus failed to control. This is not something you do occasionally. It must be a life strategy that you practice every day all day. It needs to be at the core of your thinking if you want to be successful in your pursuit of happiness.

Sometimes the causes of an event are out of your control and there is nothing you can do to change the event or the outcome, but you can change your response to it. You can be angry or mad and blame others, or you can be positive and glad you had the experience to learn from by understanding the causal relationships that caused it and prevent it from happening again.

If you do not accept responsibility in this fashion, you will misunderstand every problem you encounter. Effective problem-solving, among other things, requires that you find solutions that meet your goals and objectives, not someone else’s. When you make excuses for your unhappiness, like being a victim, or blindly following a psychopathic leader, you are abdicating your responsibility for yourself and will fail at life.

The Golden Rule

Doing unto others as you would have them do unto you, is an adage that works every time because humans want acceptance because it fulfills our need to be needed.

This adage of “do unto others as you would have them do unto you” is one of the Golden Rules, and while it is found in philosophical and religious teachings, it can also be found in the evolution of mankind. Our early ancestors lived in tribes and were very territorial, with a keen sense of “Them and Us.” But at some point, some of these small tribes stopped warring with each other and began to cooperate and work together sharing their knowledge and becoming more successful as a species. So, in a way, because cooperation was a cause of modern humans (homo sapiens) becoming the dominate species among many hominids, this principle helps define what it is to be human, and by violating it, you are reverting to the beast within you. Neanderthal is a classic example of similar humans who were notably tribal warriors, which failed to survive when the weather got cold. Cooperation is essential to success, and no man is an island unto himself. For further information on this incredible journey of mankind, read Spencer Wells, The Journey of Man: A Genetic Odyssey, March 28, 2017. Using Stones, Bones, and Genetics to prove his assertions, he traces our ancestry back to a single Adam and Eve starting about 80,000 years ago.

More Solutions:

It is imperative that we work to free the minds of those who are consumed by the dishonest narratives that create mass formation psychosis. If we are to save this Republic, we must do as our founding fathers did, we must pledge our lives, our fortunes, and our sacred honor to uphold the constitution of the United States of America and all the promises that it brings, such as Life, Liberty, and the pursuit of Happiness. If you are not clear as to what the American Experiment is, watch this 10-minute video. It is impressive and will bring this writing to a worthy conclusion.

As Ronald Reagan once said, ‘Liberty Lost’ is only one generation away. We must make sure we pass on the values of honesty, responsibility, and doing unto others, but most of all, we must work hard, just like our founding fathers, to earn the right to be free. Get and stay involved in your community and make sure you elect public officials who share your values. “We The People” require Liberty to feel connected and worthy of life.

So, make sure you vote to get rid of these radical leftists that have been working hard to destroy America as a way to empower their psychopathic egos.

Do not buy any products from China.

Do not send your children to any woke schools and demand they teach true American History.

Take back control of your child's education by working to get Universal School Funding, where the taxes for education go with the student, not to a public school run by idiots.

Stop listening to the Corporate "Fake News" Media.

Stop using any social media that engages in Cancel Culture.

Verify that your local voting process is secure and never connects to the internet.

Help to wake up the Sheeple and make everyone aware of this evil by sharing this paper.

Watch this video: Ronald Reagan Farewell Address where you will learn that: "We the people tell the government what to do, it doesn't tell us." And as sure as a law of physics, it is true that "As government expands, liberty contracts!"

Give me Liberty or give me death!
